

Mitt Romney: Wrong for Working Families

We face a stark choice in 2012. With 13 million Americans looking for work, we can't afford to elect someone who wants to repeal Wall Street reform, undo healthcare protections, give tax breaks to big oil companies and enact extreme immigration policies.

President Obama has fought for working families, sharing our vision of a nation that invests in good jobs here at home. Mitt Romney continues to advocate policies that benefit himself and the rest of the 1%.

Mitt Romney is the wrong person for the job.

Mitt Romney

- As head of the investment company Bain Capital, Romney laid off thousands of workers. [CBS News, 1/28/2008]
- Romney wants to repeal the Affordable Care Act and allow insurance companies to drop coverage when you get sick and deny coverage because of pre-existing conditions. [mittromney.com, accessed 1/26/2012]
- Romney has money stashed in Cayman Islands and Switzerland tax-havens and paid a lower percentage in taxes on $21.7 million of income in 2010 than the average worker. [Washington Post, 01/24/2012]
- Mitt Romney has proposed a tax plan that includes making permanent the Bush tax cuts and would benefit the richest 1 percent of Americans, like him, the most. [CBS News, 1/25/2012]
- He supports so-called Right-to-Work for Less and Paycheck Deception legislation, and other anti-worker measures. [mittromney.com, accessed 1/26/2012]
- Romney has proposed sending undocumented immigrants back to their home countries in as little as 90 days and as governor he opposed in-state tuition for children of undocumented immigrants. [Chicago Tribune, 11/03/11; Boston Globe, 7/11/04]

Our families can't afford Mitt Romney's policies.
We can't afford Mitt Romney.

Paid for by SEIU COPE. SEIUCOPE.ORG. Not authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee.

